

Best Practices for Online Learning

Connect with your teacher: Use the canvas inbox to message your teacher and check your messages often.

Log In Everyday Monday Through Friday: This is a good habit to have. Online courses are paced for success.

Do The Work: This seems obvious, but one mistake some online students make is not to watch/ listen to online media that has been assigned.

Ask For Help: Just like in a face to face classroom, if you need help, ask for it. Utilize direct messages to the teacher, or online peer discussion boards if they are available.

Read/ Subscribe to class announcements: Announcements are often utilized, much like a classroom Whiteboard. Teachers may post information that is important to the class in this area

Stay Organized: Just like face to face classes, you generate a lot of material in an online class. Be intentional about file organization.

Find a Workspace: Find a place to work that is comfortable and free from distractions

Are you behind?: Don't forget your teacher wants you to succeed. Contact your teacher to help.
